SHEVA MITZVOS

The Seven Noahide Laws, for all people

The Seven Noahide Laws are universal moral rules given by G-d to all people through Noah. They include basic values like respect for life, justice, and belief in one G-d.

Belief in G-d

Do not worship idols

Every person is commanded to believe in the one G-d who created heaven and earth. This includes recognizing G-d as the only true power and rejecting all forms of idolatry. Belief in G-d is the foundation of the entire Noahide Code and the starting point for a moral and meaningful life.

Respect G-d and Praise Him

Do not blaspheme His name

It is forbidden to curse or speak disrespectfully about G-d. This includes any expression that dishonors His Name. Even in difficult times, one must speak of G-d with reverence. This law protects the sanctity of our relationship with the Creator and reminds us to honor Him in word and thought.

Respect Human Life

Do not murder

Taking the life of an innocent person is absolutely forbidden. Human life is sacred because every person is created in the image of G-d. This law not only prohibits murder, but also teaches us to value life, pursue peace, and avoid harm to others in all forms.

Respect for Others' Rights and Property

Do not steal

Noahides are commanded not to steal, cheat, or take anything without permission. This law applies to both individuals and societies. It forms the basis of trust and fairness in human interaction and helps ensure that everyone's rights and property are respected.

Respect Family

Keep intimacy within its boundaries

This law sets clear boundaries for personal relationships, based on the Torah's definition of what is permitted. It prohibits unions such as those between close relatives or between those who are already married. By following these guidelines, we help protect the dignity of family life and promote a morally healthy society.

Respect All Creatures

Do not eat the flesh of an animal while it is still alive

It is forbidden to eat meat taken from an animal while it is still alive. This law teaches basic compassion and respect for animals. Although people are permitted to eat meat, they must never cause unnecessary cruelty to living creatures.

Creation of a Judicial System

Pursue justice

Human society must create systems of justice. This includes setting up courts and appointing judges to apply these laws fairly and consistently. Through law and order, this command ensures peace, responsibility, and moral behavior across communities and nations.

THE REBBE'S 10 MIVTZOIM

Ten mitzvah campaigns

The Ten Mivtzoim are mitzvah campaigns launched by Moshiach to bring holiness into daily life and strengthen every Jew's connection with G-d. Each campaign focuses on a key mitzvah.

Tefillin

G-d Connection

Jewish men and boys aged 13 and up are encouraged to put on tefillin every weekday. Tefillin are small black boxes with Torah verses that are placed on the arm and head, helping a person focus their mind and heart toward G-d each day.

Shabbos Candles

A Brighter Home

Jewish women and girls light candles before sunset every Friday to welcome the Shabbos. This mitzvah brings peace, blessing, and spiritual light into the home and the world.

Mezuzah

Home Security

A mezuzah is a scroll with Torah verses placed on the doorpost of every room in a Jewish home. It serves as a constant reminder of G-d's presence and protection.

Torah Study

The Blueprint of Creation

Every Jew, regardless of background, should study Torah regularly. Even a few minutes of learning a day brings G-d's wisdom into life and strengthens our connection to Jewish values and truth.

Jewish Books in the Home

A Scholarly Home

A Jewish home should be filled with holy books, such as a Chumash (Bible), Tehillim (Psalms), and a siddur (prayer book). These books bring Torah into daily life and make the home a place of light.

Kashrus

Diet for the Soul

Eating kosher means following the dietary laws of the Torah. It brings holiness into everyday life and helps create a deeper spiritual sensitivity.

Family Purity

G-d Bonus

This mitzvah brings spiritual blessing to Jewish marriage. It includes the laws of mikvah and family separation, promoting harmony, holiness, and respect in the home.

Ahavas Yisroel

Love Your Fellow Jew

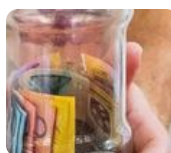

Loving every Jew as yourself means being kind, respectful, and helpful. This mitzvah strengthens unity and prepares the world for the final redemption.

Chinuch

Preparing the Next Generation

Giving children a strong Jewish education is the foundation of the future. Teaching them Torah and mitzvos ensures that the next generation will live with strength and purpose.

Tzedakah

Charity

Giving tzedakah (charity) daily, even a small coin, brings blessing and kindness into the world. This mitzvah helps us care for others and opens the heart to compassion.
